

ACI is fortunate to have extra money to spend to help address association priorities. To determine how to best spend this money, the board of directors is accepting proposals from ACI members about how to best spend ACI money. The ACI board of directors will review the proposals and discuss with ACI membership at the next annual conference in July 2009. The board will vote on proposals after the annual conference.

Submitted proposals should align with ACI's mission. ACI's mission is to serve the legitimate interests of the people of the Americas in such a manner as to dedicate their services fundamentally to the goals of better mutual understanding of natural resource conservation and cooperation among the diverse individuals, groups, institutions and elements of modern society. ACI is requesting members to submit proposals that do not exceed $10,000. Please fill out the form below to submit your ideas to Monica Linnenbrink (linnenbrinkm@dnr.sc.gov) by May 1st.
